PROFILE SUMMARY

A passionate and self-driven UI/UX Designer and Full-Stack App Developer. I specialize in designing clean, intuitive user interfaces and building modern mobile applications using Android Studio (Kotlin) and Flutter. I enjoy turning ideas into real, functional apps especially projects that are educational, inclusive, and user-centered. I'm excited to collaborate, grow, and contribute to meaningful tech solutions.

SCHOOL PROJECTS

Find my Pair

Java (2022)

A memory game designed to enhance players' concentration and memory skills through engaging challenges. Players match pairs of cards while testing their recall speed and accuracy. The game features global leaderboards, allowing users to compete with others worldwide and track their progress.

COZYDEN

HTML&CSS | JavaScript (2022)

A website that provides personalized design suggestions and customized furniture solutions for homeowners. Users can explore various interior design styles and receive recommendations based on their preferences. The platform aims to simplify the home decorating process by offering tailored ideas and product suggestions.

DevLearnHub

Kotlin | PHP (2023)

An educational app that offers a wide range of learning content to revolutionize knowledge sharing. It provides interactive lessons, quizzes, and study resources to help users improve their skills. The platform caters to students and professionals looking for an engaging and efficient way to learn.

Rides On Wheels

Kotlin | Firebase (2023)

A motorcycle rental app designed to offer a seamless and convenient riding experience. Users can browse available motorcycles, book rentals, and manage reservations with ease. The app ensures secure transactions and provides a hassle-free way for riders to explore new destinations

EIGRP

Cisco (2024)

EIGRP is a routing protocol that shares routes within an autonomous system, sending only incremental updates, reducing router workload and data transmission.
